"I would like to extend heartfelt congratulations to the 2011 Most Valuable Employers for Military winners," said Sandra (Sandy) Morris, CEO of Bradley-Morris, Inc., parent company of CivilianJobs.com. "Over my 20 years in the military recruiting industry, I have been encouraged when any company improves their talent pool by hiring veterans. But the MVE winners are a cut above. These employers, both large and small, demonstrate an understanding of and a dedication to our military service members, and I am thankful that we are able to shine a spotlight on their efforts."

The 2011 Most Valuable Employers (MVE) for Military recognition was open to all U.S.-based companies. The winners were selected based on surveys in which employers outlined their 2011 recruiting, training and retention plans that best serve military service members and veterans.

Winners are being recognized on the CivilianJobs.com Web site as well as in the May issue of Civilian Job News, CivilianJobs.com's world-wide military base newspaper.

To be included on the 2012 award submission deadline notification, companies should send an e-mail request to MVE@CivilianJobs.com .

About MVE

The CivilianJobs.com Most Valuable Employers (MVE) for Military serves to help military-experienced job seekers identify the top employers to target for civilian careers. MVEs are selected annually based on those employers whose recruiting, training and retention plans best serve military service members and veterans.
